

Listen: Michael Weingarten, Director of Small Business Innovation Research Development Center, NCI

Season: 2

| Episode: 26

Small businesses are a crucial part to development next-generation cancer technology.

Wed, 11/06/2019 - 16:22

The cancer institute's director of small business research sees the importance small business brings to cancer innovation at the agency. He discusses how his path from NASA brought him to his role in bringing the next generation of technology to cancer research.

*The businesses and technologies mentioned during this episode received SBIR funding from the National Cancer Institute and are not endorsements or advertisements.

View printer friendly version

GovCast

NASA

National Cancer Institute

NIH

small business

research

Podcast