CIO Spotlight: FDA CIO Todd Simpson and HHS CIO Beth Killoran

The agency IT leads discuss recent developments in IT modernization and priorities for the future.
Thu, 10/19/2017 - 18:55

We talk to HHS CIO Beth Killoran and FDA CIO Todd Simpson about some of the biggest changes in health IT both recently and to come in the near future. These shifts include the migration to cloud, early insights into automation, and the transition from waterfall development methodology to Agile and DevOps. The CIOs talk about the impacts these changes have had on health IT as well as the importance of protecting and leveraging patient data.

View printer friendly version
Health IT
Contains video