Amy Haseltine - part 2
Executive Director, OSPG, HHS

Amy Haseltine, executive director of the Office of IT Strategy, Policy and Governance at the Health and Human Services Department, said HHS embraces a culture of innovation in four critical areas: through government and industry partnerships, by understanding risk in its mission and business, by taking advantage of innovation opportunities and by embracing diversity.

Check out Amy Haseltine's previous video on how HHS turns thought leadership into practical success.
