Acting Deputy DHS CIO Barry West on Modernization and Digital Transformation

DHS is focused on synching IT reforms with the specific mission of each component agency.
Sun, 10/15/2017 - 10:30

Barry West
Acting Deputy CIO, Department of Homeland Security
Barry West discusses modernization efforts across DHS, as well as how private sector CIOs should plan their transitions into the federal government while building critical partnerships.

West is the acting deputy CIO and senior accountable official for risk management at the Department of Homeland Security. Previously, he was the CIO and chief privacy officer of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.