

Ashley Mahan, FedRAMP evangelist, GSA

Mon, 09/17/2018 - 14:59

This fourth episode features Ashley Mahan, the General Services Administration's first evangelist for the Federal Risk and Authorization Management Program. She joined GSA in 2015 to help agencies understand FedRAMP, but she doesn't have an educational background in IT. She majored in business and minored in real estate, which led her to a consulting company in Washington, D.C. serving federal agencies as a junior information assurance analyst — or what we call today, cybersecurity.
